TO HOLD COUNTY ZONING HEARING HERE ON DEC. 12

Hearings Will Also Be Held at Lake Villa, Wadsworth on Same Day

A public hearing on the proposed county zoning plan will be held in the village hall here Monday, Dec. 12, at 2 p. m.

At 3:30 p. m. on the same date, there will be a hearing in the Lake Villa village hall, and a third one is to follow at 7 p. m. in the Wadsworth school at Wadsworth.

Four more public hearings are planned before Thursday, Dec. 22, in other communities. They are being scheduled by the zoning commission for the purpose of giving Lake county property owners an opportunity to voice objections they may have to the proposed plan. John J. Hogan of Waukegan is the chairman.

The primary aim of the ordinance is the zoning of property outside of incorporated cities and villages to keep out undesirable commercial enterprises such as junkyards and auto "grave yards."

Proposed in 1937

It was first proposed in the summer of 1937 and a commission was appointed consisting of Hogan, chairman; Tom R. Wyles, Highland Park; Lloyd Graham, Barrington; James Anderson III, Lake Forest; Ray B. Dixon, Gurnee; David Van Patten, Wadsworth, and Harold J. Tallett, North Chicago.

In the event the ordinance is adopted by the county board, the commission will be changed to a board of appeals to conduct hearings on proposed building plans. The county highway department, under the superintendence of R. M. Lobdell, would be in charge of administering the ordinance.

WAUCONDA MAYOR HUNTING VICTIM

Collapses from Heart Attack After Shooting Deer at Kane, Pa.

Clarence Jenks, mayor of Wauconda, died of a heart attack after shooting a deer near Kane, Pa., Monday, according to word received here. He was 35 years of age. Jenks ran to pick up the animal, but collapsed just as he reached it. With him at the time was his wife, the former Mildred Underwood of Wauconda.

Several members of the Wauconda village board left for Pennsylvania upon hearing of the event. A coroner's jury was to hold an inquest and the body was afterward to be brought to Wauconda, where funeral services were to be held today.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenks had gone to Indianapolis to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. Jenks' sister, Mrs. Floyd Godfrey. From there, they went on to Pennsylvania where the deer hunting season opened Monday.

Clarence Jenks was born in Wauconda. His father had operated a farm near the village and after retiring made his home there. Mr. Jenks was graduated from the Wauconda schools and later attended the University of Illinois. He went into the garage business and was the owner of the Wauconda Motor company at the time of his death.

This was Mr. Jenks' second term as mayor of the village. He had served in that capacity for approximately five years. He was a past master of the Wauconda Masonic lodge No. 298. There are no other immediate survivors besides Mrs. Jenks and Mrs. Godfrey.

GRAYSLAKE H. S. SCHOOL DISTRICT IS KEPT INTACT

Supt. Petty Rules Against Detachment of Three Townships

On the grounds that disadvantages would outweigh advantages, County Superintendent of Schools W. C. Petty of Antioch ruled against division of the Grayslake Community High School district in a decision prepared this week for trustees of the Lake Villa, Fremont and Avon townships.

The high school district as originally organized was not very large, Supt. Petty pointed out in his statement. If it were divided, the disadvantages to the remaining Grayslake Community High School district would outweigh advantages to the detached areas.

Property owners in the Third and Fourth lake areas included in the original district had petitioned for the detachment. A public hearing for the purpose of considering the appeals was held by Supt. Petty Monday in Probate court.

Bond Issue Approved

An $85,000 bond issue for the high school was passed by the district on Nov. 12, and a building site was approved.

The election had originally been called for Nov. 5, but had been postponed when property owners of the three townships asked that their petition for detachment be acted on.

The trustees announced that the petition had been granted on Nov. 9. An appeal against the detachment, however, was filed by other members of the high school district, and the hearing conducted by Supt. Petty followed.

Attorneys Joseph N. Sikes and John Mooravian represented the district at the hearing and Attorneys Gerald C. Snyder and Lewis D. Clarke represented the townships asking for detachment.

INCREASED SCOPE OF RECREATION CLASS ACTIVITIES

Groups of Young Folks and Children as Well as Adults Formed

The handicraft groups which were started recently under the auspices of the Antioch Recreation committee are being enlarged to include some for younger folks and children.

About 15 or 20 adults who are interested in various types of handicraft work have been attending meetings of the group on Tuesday evenings.

On Tuesday afternoons after school hours a class for seventh and eighth grade boys is being started, and one for fifth and sixth grade boys is to be held on Wednesday afternoons.

Mrs. Mary Cone, who with Mr. Fox is acting as a supervisor for the groups, is spending Monday afternoons at the high school, supplying instruction for students there. She will be at the recreation rooms in the old grade school building on Saturday mornings from 9 to 12 o'clock to give special help to young folks and adults who desire it.

Entrance in the classes is open at any time to persons interested in handicraft, it is announced, and each person has the opportunity to work on the particular hobby they fancy. It is not necessary to attend the classes each time they meet.

Mrs. Cone will also assist the Girl Scouts with their handicraft work at their meetings every other Friday afternoon at the R. D. Williams residence.

Mrs. Frances Proctor of Libertyville, 42, Dies

Surviving are her parents, her husband and their three children, all of whom are residents of Libertyville, and three sisters, Mrs. Rachel Kick and Miss Florence Smith, Libertyville, and Mrs. L. A. Murrie, Mundelein.

Plan Fish Hatcheries for Kenosha County

Fish hatcheries for the propagation of game fish in Kenosha county inland lakes will be sponsored by the Kenosha County Conservation club, with three areas to be established in the city and county.

Decision to take the steps was reached after the club volunteers completed the seining of the Lincoln park lagoon in Kenosha recently, salvaging more than 170,000 fish and transplanting them in county lakes. The lagoon was being drained to make way for a WPA deepening project.

The conservationists already operate a fish hatchery at Bose lake, in the northwest section of the county, and the third hatchery will be at Camp Lake, where a section on the property of Fred Meyers fronting the lake will be screened off for this purpose.

In the spring the club will receive from a half million to a million eggs from the Wisconsin Conservation commission's hatchery at Bohners lake near Burlington, and these will be planted from cans. Late in the fall the hatcheries will be seined and the fingerlings will then be transplanted in the county's inland lakes.

The activities of the club in fish propagation parallel the work in wild life feeding during the winter months. For the past five years the club has won annual state conservation commission awards for the best winter feeding programs among private groups of sportsmen, and the fish program is in addition to this activity.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS OPENED IN LAKE COUNTY

Window Posters on Display in Antioch Convey Annual Appeal

The annual sale of Christmas seals conducted by the Lake County Tuberculosis association starts this week with considerable activity in the different towns throughout the county.

Posters, reminding people to do their part in the Christmas seal sale to raise funds for the anti-tuberculosis work of the association, are being distributed to the merchants of Antioch for display in prominent places.

More than 100 letters were mailed to pastors in Lake county asking that the work of the Lake County tuberculosis association be mentioned in their sermons or in their church bulletins on Sunday, Nov. 27.

The Christmas Seal trailer will be shown through the courtesy of motion picture managers in the county.

Radio will also play an important part in bringing you several educational programs.

"We look upon the Christmas Seal sale as our opportunity to focus public attention on the dangers of Tuberculosis and the hope of conquering it," said Edward L. Baker, Seal Sale chairman.

"For this reason, we utilize every available medium. Without the cooperation so generously given by the newspapers and other agencies, our educational programs would not be possible."

The usual chest clinics sponsored by the Lake County Tuberculosis Association will be held Wednesday and Friday mornings from 8:30 to 11 a. m. at St. Theresa hospital, Waukegan. Dr. Charles K. Petter is the examining physician. New patients are requested to make an appointment with the office, Majestic 1805.

Endorsed by President

Nothing less than the complete eradication of the scourge of tuberculosis from this country should be the aim of every citizen in giving support to the annual Christmas Seal Sale of the National Tuberculosis Association, and its affiliated groups, President Roosevelt said in endorsing the Association's thirty-second annual campaign, which opened on Thanksgiving Day. Such support, says the President, "becomes a patriotic duty."

President Roosevelt said that the work of the tuberculosis associations in teaching people that the disease is preventable and curable and that people can be returned to health and strength is of the highest value.

"With the approach of the holiday season we are again forcibly reminded that the nationwide attack on tuberculosis is a year around campaign, made possible through the proceeds of Christmas Seals," President Roosevelt said. Since 1907 these well known seals, which will go on sale throughout the United States on Thanksgiving Day, have played an important part in stamping out tuberculosis and saving the lives of countless numbers of people stricken with this dread disease.

"Preventable and Curable"

"The work which the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated organizations are doing in teaching people that tuberculosis is preventable, that it is curable, and that great numbers of tuberculosis patients can be restored to health and strength, is of the highest value. It deserves the support of our citizens everywhere. Such support in a very real sense becomes a patriotic duty."

"The proceeds from the sale of the Christmas seals will furnish the sinews of war with which to attack this menace on all fronts: through preventive measures, education, free clinics, hospitalization and nursing service. Our goal must be nothing less than the complete eradication of this scourge of tuberculosis from our nation. Through the power of the Christmas seal everybody can help in attaining that goal. In the true spirit of Christmas let us as a nation give generous support to this campaign to protect the health of every man, woman and child within our borders."

A Better Recipe

There is sound thinking behind the formula for industrial peace recommended last week by Businessman Charles R. Hook. Said Mr. Hook: "If the element of compulsion and coercion were removed from current industrial relations, great progress would be made in the direction of industrial peace."

Certainly anything but harmonious relations have resulted from the current methods of which he speaks. The results are perhaps best shown by these appalling figures:

In 1937 a total of 1,860,621 American workers suffered the staggering loss of 28,424,857 days of work because of industrial strife. This represents hundreds of million dollars in wages, chargeable against National income. The final result: A reduction of the national purchasing power which hurt everybody.

What Mr. Hook proposes is to lift this rule by coercion and experimental lawmaking and let the employers and employees work out their own problems—for their own mutual advantage and the benefit of the Nation as a whole. Indeed, there is nothing to lose and everything to be gained.

A good beginning would be amendment of the National Labor Relations Act and control of agitators rather than businessmen and workers.

Pray Heaven!

Private business has some friends in Congress—one of them is Senator Bailey of North Carolina. In a talk made a short time ago he had this to say:

"Why substitute government management for business management? The average politician is in politics because he was a failure in everything else. They do not believe in a balanced budget because they never had one. They do not understand finance because they never made a dollar. Their currency is votes, not dollars, their balance sheets are election returns, not book accounts, and their stock in trade is nostrums for people afflicted with a disease known as gullibility. It is heaven business may escape them."

Politicians who figure that the best way to attract votes is to attack the industries which provide jobs, taxes and opportunities in this country, should think that over, for after all, the taxes to maintain government and pay the politicians must come from private enterprise. bad enough that they must run the government. Pray

Don't Kid Yourself

In commenting on the belief of many that they "pay no taxes," the Kansas City Star says: "The complicity of millions over taxes would be sharply upset if a few facts were allowed to sink in."

The Star then takes a survey of "indirect taxes" made by a large life insurance company and shows what the man who thinks he "pays no taxes," actually pays in taxes each year.

Out of the $960 annual income an $80 a month worker receives, he pays $10.29 a month, or $123.48 a year, in indirect taxes that have been added to the cost of necessities he buys, such as food, rent, clothing, fuel, light, recreation, insurance and dozens of other things—about 13 per cent of his income in this case. And the tax total increases as he earns more.

You are kidding only yourself when you laugh about taxes. The less you earn, the harder they hit you from the indirect angle, for they increase the cost of every necessity of life you buy.

The Farmer Saves Himself

A small newspaper recently made this wise comment: "One of the questions which is most frequently asked these days is 'Can the government help business?' For the best answer to that we must look to agriculture. For as long as we can remember, politicians have been rushing to the aid of the farmer. For as long as we can remember, the farmer, if he was saved from recurring difficulties, has had to save himself."

The history of farm relief, as this intimates, is very largely a history of costly political failure. Farmers have made definite progress through their own efforts, using such tools as the marketing cooperatives. When they have depended upon political panaceas, they have usually found that they have followed a will-o'-the-wisp.

Young John Roosevelt earning $18 a week, is spending $100 a month for an apartment, thus proving himself a true son of the New Deal.

Business Guides

MANY new business firms are born each year and their growth and success must come through the power of advertising. A comparison of the advertising columns of today's publications with those of only 15 years ago shows that advertising has received a mighty impetus because Americans, perhaps more than any other group in the world, realize that advertising is the shortest road to market.

Because advertising men must understand how to study people, merchandise and marketing, they must be properly trained. Successful advertising requires something more than mere literary ability on the part of the creator. A few years ago the chief qualification of the advertising man was the ability to write more or less "cleverly".

The business man who spends his money in advertising today demands that the man who directs the spending of his money be thoroughly grounded in the principles of advertising practice. In other words, the advertising representative must obtain systematic training in his field of work quite as much as the civil, the electrical or any other engineer or technical worker.

The world will not beat a path to your doorstep today merely because you build the best mousetrap, but the chances are that a goodly number of persons will find the way to your doorstep to purchase your services or product if you advertise well in the right media.

Last Sunday I was visiting one of my friends at Hainesville. We were playing on a pond when all of a sud-

We have made a Japanese garden with some little things that Miss Dexter brought with her this year. It is very cute.

The intermediate room made paper candles this week. They look very nice on the piano and by the windows. They look very real.

Lesson for December 4

THE SIN OF LYING

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:16; John 8:42-47; Ephesians 4:25.
GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts.—Psalm 51:6.

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

"God is truth. The word truth describes the very nature of God. Lying, therefore, reveals a character opposite from God. Satan is a liar. He was a liar from the beginning and is spiritually the father of all liars. A lie does not necessarily have to be an untruth. A statement of a truth may be a lie if its purpose is to deceive. A half truth may be the worst kind of a lie. Satan's lies . . . are usually mixed with truth." Consider "modernism," which has enough truth in it to make it accepted by thousands of people, but sufficient error to deprive it of any power to save souls" (L. D. Higley).

I. Forbidden to Lie (Exod. 20:16). This commandment specifically forbids perjury, which is one of the worst forms of lying, because it may result in the forfeiture of the very life of a fellow being. It is obvious, however, that it includes all forms of lying, whether in business, in social contacts, in the home or in the church. We might do well to consider what the Bible has to say about whisperers, talebearers, backbiters, and others (see Lev. 19:16; II Cor. 12:20). A man's reputation may be as easily ruined by a whispered lie over the back fence or the luncheon table as by formal perjury in the courtroom. "Thou shalt not bear false witness" at any time, anywhere, or in any way.

II. Fountain of Lies (Matt. 15:19, 20).

Our constant concern for the body that it may be healthy, clean, and well groomed is commendable up to the point where it becomes an attempt to "glorify" the flesh. But after all, the body is not the most important thing. The heart is what makes a man (read Matt. 15:7-11). But what comes out of man's unregenerate heart? What a horrible catalogue we read in verse 19! It is not what a man eats or what he wears that makes him, but what is in his heart. How foolish then to hope to redeem humanity by improving housing, having better schools and bigger playgrounds. All these are desirable, but the one thing needful is that man's heart be washed in the blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, that he be born again.

III. Father of Lies (John 8:44-47). Liars had better consider their "family tree" and see how they like their spiritual father. He is lustful, murderous, and there is no truth in him (v. 44). If you belong to that family would you not like to change families and be born into God's family.

As we have already suggested, the prize lie of Satan is modern religious liberalism. We quote again from Mr. Higley: "The first lie was told by Satan and it brought about the fall of the human race. The last lie . . . by Satan is being told even now . . . in the form of modernism, that makes the Church impotent even to save its own people." Let us have no part in putting forward this falsehood.

Note that in verses 45-47 Jesus challenges His enemies to convict Him of sin or of falsehood. No one has ever been able to meet that challenge. Even those who deny His Godhood and Saviourhood speak swelling words of commendation of His pure life and exalted moral teaching. If then He told the truth about other things, surely He spoke the truth about Himself. The claims He made for Himself as the Son of God and the Saviour of the world are plain and unmistakable. If we deny them we either make Jesus a liar, or we lie ourselves, and it is obvious that the latter is the case.

IV. Forsaking of Lies (Eph. 4:25). "Wherefore" refers us back to the preceding verses where we are told how, as Christians, we have put off the life of the "old man" (v. 22) and put on the "new man"; therefore we are to live in true holiness. But evidently the Ephesian Christians still fell into their old heathen habits of lying. Would that the tendency had died out with the early Church, but as a matter of fact, it seems to have become aggravated as the years have come and gone.

Being in Christ—members of His body and thus united to one another in Him—should make us scrupulously truthful toward all men. Let us—which means you and me—scrutinize every relationship of life and be sure that we have not by word, act, or inference told lies. Think carefully of your family life, your church life, your community life. Deal with such practical things as grocery bills, taxes, tendencies to gossip. We preachers need to consider our sermons. Are they true to God's Word? Are they honestly prepared? Do we "stretch" our illustrations to make them effective? Surely all of us who bear the name of Christ must put away every form of falsehood.

Santa Rides Again

As far back as the 9th century we find mention of good old St. Nicholas (Santa Claus). He was the special protector of children, scholars, merchants and sailors . . . and is said to have originated the old custom of giving presents in secret on the Eve of Christmas Day. Santa was first brought to America by the early Dutch colonists and he has been a regular visitor since—Watch for him . . . he "rides again" for a greater 1938 Christmas!

Thanksgiving Day

The Rev. J. E. Charles of St. Ignatius' Episcopal church solemnized the union of Miss Ruth Edna Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Edmund Wells of Antioch, and Emil Hallwas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hallwas, also of this city, at a wedding ceremony in the Wells home Thanksgiving morning at 11 o'clock.

Hans Von Holwede, instructor in music at Antioch High school and a close friend of the Wells family, played the wedding march and also accompanied Miss Ruth Ona Nelson, who sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" during the service.

The bride, wearing teal blue accented with brown and a corsage of white chrysanthemums, was presented in marriage by her father. Attending her was her sister, Miss Virginia Wells, who was gowning in a "crushed berry" shade with black accessories. Yellow baby chrysanthemums formed the bridesmaid's corsage.

Robert Hallwas, a nephew of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

A reception was held following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hallwas left later on a short trip to the central part of the state. They will be at home to their many friends at Fox Lake. Both the bride and the bridegroom are graduates of Antioch Township High school.

The bride was recently honored at a miscellaneous shower held by the Ladies' guild and the choir members of St. Ignatius' church at her home. She was presented with a gift by the entire gathering, and also received many individual gifts.

The IMPORTANCE of EYESIGHT

Since our eyes are in use while we are awake and from birth to the end of life it behooves us to be sure they are not being further burdened by uncorrected disturbances. Most individuals are of the opinion that because they "see well" as they say, all is well with their eyes. Unfortunately, this is not true and is just another instance of lack of knowledge.

CAMPFIRE MUSINGS

By Jack Hoag

Almost all men have a love for outdoor sports among which hunting, fishing, camping and boating are included and the residents of Lake and McHenry counties are fortunate in having an ideal region for outdoor fun at their very door. What finer playground could a sportsman ask than the Fox river flowage and—Antioch is a central point in the Chain O' Lakes region.

A man can leave his place of business and be on the water in fifteen minutes and he is reasonably sure of finding good sport of the kind he is seeking. Of course every man is inclined to grumble a little, but there is now reasonably good hunting and fishing to be found in the Chain O' Lakes region and the sensible sportsman should be willing to do his part to keep the fish and game as plentiful as it is today.

This means "Conservation," and when we say, "Conservation" we do not mean State Conservation, we mean individual conservation in which every sportsman can do his part by regulating his own individual acts so that he will always leave a supply of fish or game in reserve to furnish sport on a later day. The Illinois Conservation Department may make a mistake once in a while but it is doing a good work toward increasing the supply of fish and game and the real answer to the Conservation Problem lies with the individual sportsman.

The writer has been a hunter and fisherman for fifty years. We have kindled camp-fires from Alaska to lower South America. We have killed every species of big game in America except moose and we could have bagged a hundred, but to kill a moose is too easy. It is too much like going out in a pasture and shooting a cow. Our work in the Forestry Department has taught us much of practical conservation and we are fully convinced that best results can only be obtained when we have the full cooperation of every individual sportsman.

We have been asked to suggest a line of action that will provide better hunting and fishing for the Chain O' Lakes region and we want to say right now, that we have no axe to grind. We don't know a soul in this district, but we have covered the lake region by boat and we know by experience what is required to provide better sport. First comes the question of food. We find indications that formerly there was plenty of wild rice and celery which was probably grubbed up by carp and killed by high water. Plant more rice and celery and kill the carp. Second, ask the state officials to install proper dams and reservoirs to maintain a standard water level which will help greatly in establishing better breeding places for both fish and game. Third, Don't take more fish or game than you can use on your own table. Fourth, Cut the limit on mudhens to ten a day. They provide most of the duck shooting in Illinois and should receive better protection. Fifth, Plant walleye pike and muskies in all lakes. The Chain O' Lakes region is well adapted to these fish. Sixth, Stop all winter fishing through the ice and increase the legal limit for pickerel to twenty inches. Fishing through the ice is "meat fishing" pure and simple. There is no sport in it and a man taking home fifty or seventy-five pounds of fish takes more than his family can possibly use.

Seventh, Don't fish for any fish during its spawning season. Early fly fishing over the spawning beds will soon spoil the bluegill and crappie fishing. Eighth, Kill off all the turkeys and fish eating birds that you can. The law should be changed on hell-divers and mergansers. They eat thousands of small fish. Ninth, Make it your personal business to see that the fish and game laws are enforced. Report all offender regardless of who they may be. Tenth, Conduct yourself while fishing and hunting so that you will set an example in good sportsmanship for others to follow. A sportsman is always a real man no matter where you find him.

Remember at all times, "That you can't eat all your cake and have it, too."

Boiled Prisoners to Death

Punishment was once used by boiling prisoners to death both in England and on the continent. The "Chronicles of the Grey Friars" (1852) have an account of boiling for poisoning at Smithfield in the year 1522, the man being fastened to a chain and lowered into boiling water several times until he died. The preamble of the statute of Henry VIII (which made poisoning treason) in 1531, recites that one Richard Roose, a cook, by putting poison in food intended for the household of the bishop of Rochester, and for the poor of the parish of Lambeth, killed a man and woman. He was sentenced for treason and publicly boiled. In 1547 the act was repealed.

'Ride on a Rail' Punishment

One form of disciplinary punishment for soldiers in the early days consisted of sentencing them to ride what the men called the wooden horse. The sentence came from the commander and the men carried it out. They made the offender straddle a bent sapling and then tossed and jolted him until he was quite willing to say "uncle" to each man in the company—or say whatever it was they said in those days.

Christmas A Year Late

By Edith Kirkwood

"TOMORROW'S Christmas day, tomorrow's Christmas day," little Dorothy was singing as she was prancing about the dingy apartment. She'd stop to roll up the sleeves that were continually slipping down over her hands. No wonder they didn't stay up, for the dress was one that Helen, two years older, had outgrown. Mother had meant to make it over, but she was too tired when she got home from cleaning house for other people all day.

"Hush up, Dorothy. Mother will be coming in pretty soon, and she'll cry if we say anything about Christmas," Helen reminded her.

"I don't see why. Christmas is a time to laugh, and not to cry," Dorothy responded philosophically.

"Don't you remember last Christmas, and how daddy didn't come home with our packages?" Helen couldn't believe that even so little a sister as Dorothy should forget that. For daddy had never been heard from since that Christmas eve.

As Dorothy started to reply, Helen warned her: "Sh—, there comes mother," and the youngsters were silent when she entered. Mrs. Bond, tired and absorbed in her own anxious thoughts, did not heed their un-childlike quiet. Her apathy had developed that trait in them, and she was unaware of what her sorrow was doing to her children. She busied herself with the simple meal, and Dorothy's faint, "Mother, is Santa coming tonight?" was the cause of her only break: "My poor baby, I'm afraid Santa doesn't even know you exist," she sobbed. She was getting them into bed, and they were soon asleep, their pillows wet with their tears that Santa was not coming. Too tired to sew, and in deepest depression, Mrs. Bond was roused from her inert brooding by a rap at the door.

Mrs. Bond was roused by a knock at the door.

A caller was unheard of. No one came to see her, for she had repelled all kindly offers of assistance when her husband disappeared. She ignored the knock. When it came again it was a significant signal, two short raps, repeated three times. Her husband's knock!

Quivering with excitement, she moved toward the door. Her fingers were trembling so that she could hardly turn the key. The door opened, and she gasped, "Tom!" as the sturdy, well-dressed man exclaimed, "Barbara!" and took her in his arms. Then, after a long embrace, he led her to the big chair she had just quitted, and drew her on his lap while they talked together.

"I left you Christmas eve to do the last-minute shopping. But an icicle struck my head, and knocked me unconscious. I couldn't remember who I was or where I lived. I went to a hotel and after a few days got work as a salesman. I told my boss my predicament, and he has been very kind. Today, Christmas shopping somehow brought back to me who and what I was. And I couldn't wait to find you!"

"But how did you ever trace us?" Barbara asked. "I thought I left no clues. I thought you had deserted me, when we found you weren't an accident case."

"Deserted you? You? My poor child," and he drew her close again. "I did have a heck of a time, but old Jack, the baggage man, finally told me where you had moved to. But now we must get ready for last year's Christmas. And next week we'll get out of this hovel." Tom's affluence was apparent.

"My dear, my dear. I don't mind the hovel, now that you are safely home," Barbara whispered.

"All right, Babs, old girl. But stop crying down my neck if you are really glad to have me back," but his tender kiss belied his joking words.

Popular Christmas Carols

Probably the best known Christmas carol is "Adeste Fideles," composed in 1700 and sung in Roman Catholic churches ever since. It was adopted in England in 1841 and sung in Protestant churches as "O Come All Ye Faithful." Among the more popular Christmas carols are "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," "Christians Awake," and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing." St. Ambrose is said to have written one of the first Christmas hymns in 340 A. D.

Boy Scouts Accept 35,857 Acres in Kit Carson Country From Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips

Boy Scouts of America will enjoy wilderness camping on the new 35,857-acre tract in New Mexico's Kit Carson country, gift of Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips of Tulsa, Okla.

A GIFT from Mr. and Mrs. Waite Phillips, Tulsa, Okla., of 35,857 acres of land a few miles northwest of Cimarron, New Mexico, and $50,000 to be used in improving and developing the land for camping purposes, has just been accepted by the Executive Board of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

When he made this announcement Walter W. Head, President of the Boy Scouts of America, said, "Mr. Phillips offered the property without any restriction whatsoever save that it is to be used for the benefit of members of the Scout Movement. As a matter of fact, he specifically stated, 'If this proposal were being made to any other organization, whose rating was inferior to the record of service made by the Boy Scouts of America, I would be inclined to be more particular in outlining the program, to be assured that the property would be put to full beneficial use as I visualize it.' In accepting his gift the National Executive Board has in mind the establishment of a Boy Scout reservation for the development and furtherance of wilderness camping."

Kit Carson Country

Before formally proposing that the Boy Scouts of America accept the ranch property Mr. and Mrs. Phillips and their son Elliott entertained a party of Scout officials at Philmont Ranch near Cimarron, immediately adjacent to the new Scout Reservation. The party included, besides President Head, Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout Executive, and Arthur A. Schuck, Director of the Division of Operations. The entire group was greatly impressed by the scenic beauty of the area and its usefulness for Scout camping purposes.

Much of the property is virgin territory and under the careful management characteristic of Boy Scout camping those small parts which have been grazed recently will quickly be restored to their natural conditions. Mr. Phillips has proposed, in accordance with general Boy Scout practice, that the property immediately be designated as a game preserve.

In a statement issued to the Executive Board Dr. West described the reservation in this way: "The property is in the Rocky Mountains, all above an elevation of 7,000 feet and rises in spots to at least 11,000 feet. It is the Kit Carson territory and the old Santa Fe trail passes through it. There are nine main canyons on the tract converging either at the Cimarron River or the main branch of the Ponil River, which later flows into the Cimarron.

Older Boys' Paradise

"Each of the canyons is of the same general make-up, flanked on each side by ever-changing vistas, rock palisades, timber growth, and with smaller canyons in endless numbers fringing out from the main ones. There are also several high land meadows or mesas, offering excellent additional camping area spots. Bear Canyon, Dean Canyon, and Turkey Canyon have an extensive amount of timber growth, comprised principally of western pines, Douglas fir, balsam, quaking aspens and cottonwoods. It is the natural habitat of deer and while on the property we saw mule deer, wild turkeys, and dozens of beaver dams and many evidences of bear.

"While there are few Boy Scout Local Councils throughout the country which do not have camps both for short camping trips and for summer vacation camping," Dr. West continued, "there is a need of opportunities for Troops and Patrols with experience, training, leadership and proper equipment to secure the benefits of wilderness camping, which I believe will appeal to older boys in all parts of America. By this is implied a more rugged experience with nature in the raw than is possible in the customary local Boy Scout Council camp but at no sacrifice of our essential safeguards of health and safety."

A recent digest of Scout membership records revealed that more than 100,000 Scouts in nearly 4,000 Troops live within a 600 mile radius of the property. From this group will come those who use the property most frequently, although Scouts from all parts of the country will head for it on roving tours under adequate leadership and according to provisions laid down by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Before reaching a decision to accept the Phillips gift the National Council sought advice from the local Boy Scout Councils in the area to be served by the reservation. Forty such groups indicated that they would begin to make use of the spot in the next camping season and many evidences of enthusiasm and offers of active cooperation in the development of the property were received.

Wilderness Camping Popular

George W. Olmsted, Chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee for the Boy Scouts of America, reports great need in the Rocky Mountain section for facilities for Troops from far away which seek wilderness camping. The Pike's Peak Council of Colorado Springs, Colo., last summer had requests from New Orleans, Shreveport, Toledo, Chicago, five towns in Texas, four in Kansas, and many individual requests for camping places in the Rocky Mountains. They were able only to help one Troop from Kansas and this demonstrates that there is great need for a place where these Troops can have adequate facilities for mountain camping under proper supervision.

As an evidence of the magnitude of this problem and how the Waite Phillips property would help to solve it, he adds that in 1937, 200 touring permits were granted by the home office of the Scouts with a total mileage of 155,354 miles, averaging 776 miles per tour, with 4,201 Scouts and 674 Scouters in attendance. To date, in 1938, 338 Touring Permits have been issued with an estimated attendance of 7,098 Scouts and 1,115 Scouters. Eighty-nine of the tours during 1938 involved more than 1,000 miles. Thirty-six traveled more than 2,000 miles.

Our Three Nervous Systems

Man has three nervous systems. The central nervous system, which consists of the brain and its associated fibers that extend to all parts of the body, is particularly associated with the sense organs and muscles. The autonomic and sympathetic nervous systems are associated with the internal organs and processes which operate themselves without aid from the other nervous system. These two systems bear the same relationship to each other as the gas pedal and the brakes on an automobile. Normally these actions balance each other.

Santa Claus Really Has a Post Office

This is the doorway to Santa Claus land, a real village resting in the Indiana hills which has become world-famous because of its Christmas name and also because Abraham Lincoln lived there from his seventh to twenty-first years. Santa Claus is an unincorporated village but its post office does a land-office business each December because thousands of people send their letters there to be cancelled with the famous Santa Claus postal stamp.

For 28 years James F. Martin was postmaster at Santa Claus, taking it easy each summer and working like a fiend during the Christmas rush. Finally the pressure grew so great that his office was rated as a third-class post office, a ranking usually enjoyed only by much larger communities. Above is the Santa Claus post office and general store, famous throughout the world.

Succeeding James Martin when he died was the present postmaster, Oscar Phillips, forty-one. To him has fallen the duty of making thousands of children happy. Each day he receives hundreds of letters containing enclosures which are to be cancelled carefully with the Santa Claus stamp and sent on to all parts of the world.

As he should be, the real Santa Claus is the patron saint of this little Indiana community. This 25-foot statue of St. Nicholas stands all year in a little park, attracting visitors from all parts of the country. Yes, Santa Claus does have a post office!

Household Hints

Curtain Dip

Often unsuspected by housewives, sulphur in illuminating gas and in gases from coal-burning stoves and furnaces is destructive to window curtains, draperies and other household fabrics. Fumes from the gases combine with moisture in the air to make strong acids that destroy the fabrics, thereby making them deteriorate much faster than normal household wear.

Fortunately, however, all this can be prevented. Early this year U. S. Department of Agriculture chemists discovered a way to fireproof common household fabrics. Since then their research has shown that the fireproofing solution also prevents destruction of the fabrics by these gases.

To prolong the life of curtains, draperies, rugs and even upholstery fabrics, they advise dipping the fabrics in or spraying them with a solution of seven ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid dissolved in two quarts of water. This simple treatment does not affect the appearance of most fabrics and will effectively protect them against sulphur gases.

Thick Oyster Soup

To the season's popular recipes add this one for rich, thick oyster soup: Prepare a thin cream sauce by combining three tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter and three cups of milk, seasoned with salt, pepper and paprika to taste. When this is thoroughly heated, add one and a half cups ground oysters, heat for a few minutes and serve hot.

Household Hints

Honey combines well with peanut butter, cottage cheese, chopped dried nuts or fruit to make sandwich fillings.

Mustard stains can be removed from washable materials with soap and water.

A good salad can be made from crisp raw turnips and apples with a tart mayonnaise.

The flavor of cloves goes well with smoked meats such as ham and smoked shoulder.

Contents of the Potato

A potato is more than three-fourths water, only one-tenth to one-fifth starch, an excellent source of phosphorus and iron, and a fair source of vitamin C.

Onion, Chive, Garlic, Wild Garden onion, chive, and garlic are merely cultivated species of these wild plants.

MEXICAN CHAMP WILL BE McMILLEN'S FOE AT CHARITY SHOW

Jim Will Tangle with Martinez at Waukegan Tuesday Night

Heading the gigantic professional wrestling program to be staged by the Waukegan City Club at the Waukegan High school gymnasium Tuesday night, Dec. 6, are two matches of real significance.

One of the double main events arranged by Matchmaker Les White will bring "Big" Jim McMillen, high ranking world title contender, against the new Mexican champion, Ignasioco Martinez, 245 pound strong man, who has been taking all comers down south. The other main event will see Ruffy Silverstein, generally acclaimed as the uncrowned champion of the world, in a match with the giant German sensation, Frederick von Schacht, who stands 6 feet, 6 inches, and tips the scales at 250 pounds, and holds the distinction of being the only man who ever held the mighty Silverstein to a draw. Since the draw match the pair met again at the University of Illinois in a charity match, and little Ruffy caught the towering Teuton unaware and broke his arm in a crash to the canvas. After four months of retirement von Schacht is anxious to even the score. He will get his chance Tuesday night.

The McMillen-Martinez go should be a real natural for this pair have met before in one of the hottest battles on the records, but the outcome was so indecisive that they have been rematched at Waukegan.

The semi-windup introduces the latest wrestling sensation, Bert Rubi, who will do battle with the Chicago gas-house kid, rough Rudy Kay. Kay is well known in these parts as the man who held McMillen to a couple of draw matches, and should give Rubi no little trouble. The other match on the card features the return of the Joe Louis of wrestling, Jack Claybourn, the Black Panther of the northwest. Claybourn, too, was a heavy favorite out at the lake arenas near here several seasons ago, and he is being brought in to tame tough-guy Jack Conley, the Boston Slugger.

Choice tickets at 60c and $1.10 tax included, are now on sale at the YMCA and Curlee's Drug store in Waukegan.

Lake Commerce College Will Hold Graduation

With brightly colored comets for the general background decorations, the Lake College of Commerce, Waukegan, will hold its annual graduation banquet in the American Legion home there at 6:30 p. m. Saturday.

Mildred Bauman of Lake Villa, program chairman, and her assistants, have worked out an entertaining program.
